Tales of Digi Destiny (section 2)

Section 2 of: Tales of Digi Destiny
-- Part 4
... Wreck turned around swiftly. He saw a man with dark hair, a red >Jacket, white pants an a cigar. "you wanted to talk... let's talk" said Wreck
. "We were friends since child hood. Then, you served me loyally for 10 years
>. What happened?" "You know very well. You wanted me to kill innocent children." " Innocent? You must be kidding. I saw the future, Wreck. Our >company has built a time retreiving machine which lets us see in the future.
In 10 years, the two worlds would have been automatically spliced. The >destined would have destroyed me in my world conquest."
"World...conquest?""Yes... A long time ago, somewhere in 1940s, my father led an army close to >victory. You might have heard of him... Hitler?" Wreck stood in aw:
"You're
Hitler's son?" "YES! He never suicided himself after he lost! He ran away!
>He made me, hoping one day I will follow in his footsteps, not making the same mistakes he did. And that is my plan. I have all the resources I need!
>You know very well I will win! But what I want, is you by my side." Wreck turned his head down. "That explains everything... the gestapo-like uniforms, >your power craze, your German name as well as your accent... Why didn't you ever tell me?" "I was afraid you'd hate me for being Hitler's son." "I don't >hate you for that... I hate you for being so evil... you will stop at nothing to be the king of the world? As well as systematically eleiminating everybody >except Rockets?" "...yes... that's why I want you to join me again. Fight with me and you will rule by my side!" "Forget it!" Giovanni got a frown on >his face. "So be it." He pulled out a gun as Wreck turned around. "Nice knowing you! Goodbye!" Wreck turned and gasped. He heard a gun firing and a >shade in front of him. He opened his eyes. Giovanni had left on a helicopter.

Wreck looked down. "KARI!!!" he screamed. Kari was on the ground with a hole >on her stomach. He got down and grabbed her between his arms. She was still breathing. Wreck felt tears running down his cheeks. "Why Kari? Why?" Kari >looked at him. "You're our leader. We can't let anything happen to you.
Please forgive me..." That last sentence made Wreck cry even more. He picked >her up and carried her to a hospital. She was put in a bed and she slept.
"Giovanni... I will one day find you and tear you apart with my bare hands.."
>He clenched hi fist.
> Chapter 16: Returned Favor > Wreck had called the others. They arrived as quickly as possible.
Kari had woken up before they arrived. They sat down beside her bed. "Kari, >are you alright?" Asked Tai. "Of course. It's just a bullet, no big deal" she said. Kari was indeed a true heroine. She didn't even complain. She had >protected her captain like any soldier would have done. "The doctor said I'll be out within 2 weeks". Visiting time was over and the nurses put them out.
 Wreck knew very well Tai hated him now. He should never had gotten >out alone. If only he wouldn't have turned around. If only Kari hadn't woken up. Wreck was walking with the others back to base, head down, crushed by >guilt. Tai didn't say anything to him all day...
> A week later, Wreck came to visit Kari at the hospital. She looked pretty well. She was glad to see him. After a bit of chit-chat, he had to >leave. She had to get her daily shot. The doctor escorted Wreck out of the room. He didn't like the looks of this doctor... he was carrying a small >black briefcase. Wreck was out but was spying through the windo. The Doc opened his briefcase and took out a needle and a small vial of a transparent >substance. "Will I be able to leave soon?" asked Kari. The doctor filled the needle with the substance saying :" You'll be leaving a lot sooner than you >think". Wreck entered and threw his sword at the needle. It exploded out of the doc's hand. "What are you doing Wreck?" asked Kari. "this!" Wreck took >vial and drank it. He grabbed his stmoach, gurgled and fell to the floor. The doctor bolted out of the room. Kari got up and ran to Wreck's side. He had >swallowed poison, no doubt maliced by Team Rocket to take her out. Wreck got up! He had kept the poison in his mouth but spat it out. He ran to the WC and >drank water and barfed, trying at all cost to get the poison out. He got out:
"Rat poison" he said. Kari was so glad he was alive she ran to him and hugged >him. Wreck was glad he made up for his mistake.. somewhat. "Come,

Kari. This place isn't safe anymore." Wreck picked her up and put her on his back. He >ran outside where X-Boxmon was in his bike form. He put Kari on it and looked back. The wacky doctor was running his way with a shotgun. He fired and broke >the entrance door window. Wreck quickly got on his bike and rode off. On his way, Kari noticed his left arm was bleeding. "Wreck..." "I'll be alright" he >said. They drove to the base...
> "Wreck? What the fuck do you think you're doing?" shouted Tai. "Kari needs to be in the hospital!" "Tai, Wreck saved me. A Rocket impersonating >a doctor tried to poison me, but Wreck drank the poison so I wouldn't" said Kari. Tai stood silent. He ran to Wreck and hugged him. "I'm sorry! I just >have so much on my mind now!" he said. "Oh my god!" he looked at Wreck's arm.
"That's a pretty big bullet lodged in there." "Where are the others?" "They >will be back soon enough".
> Chapter 17: Return to Felony > Basher and Red were in the city that night. They were driving a sports car (god only knows how they got it) and Red was driving. Basher was a bit >hungry so he told Red to stop by a mart. Red tried to get out, but Basher stopped him: "I'll take care of it" he said. "But you don't even have..." Red >mumbled, but Basher was already at the mini mart. He walked pass the counter with a fuzzy, grey haired guy with glasses. He walked to the chips section >and grabbed a bag of Barbeque chips.
> Red was waiting in the car. Basher jumped in out of nowhere through the window with the ring-os bag. "DRIVE!!!" he shouted, struggling to get >himself right side up. Red psmashed his foot on the pedal without thinking.
The fuzzy haired guy with glasses came running out of the store. He stood in >the middle of the road, with a gun cocked with two hands. He had a twisted grin on his face. His tongue was sticking out, and with a crazy laugh, he >started fireing at the car. "What are you fuckin' nuts?" shouted Red. "Hey, at least I got some ringos. Want some?" said Basher. Red shook his head and >tried to avoid the crazy man's bullets. Basher just happilly ate his ringos.
> Meanwhile... Sora, Sally and Mimi where having their own night, in a car they also mysteriously acquired. Their digimon was also with them.
>"Where are we going?" asked Biyomon. "I dunno" said Sally, who was driving." Let's just have fun looking at the sights". They were driving in town and >decided to stop at a japanese buffet.It was a pretty quirky place. It was red inside and had gold dragons. A japanese maitre 'D escorted them to a table.
>They took the sushi and had a nice meal. When they took the bill...
> "100$ for some sushi?!?" Screamed Sally. "That's insane!". The waiter called out the chef, some samurais and some ninjas. They were shouting out >words foreign to them. "What 'd he say?" "You don't want to know." "How can I pay? I don't have 100$!" said Sally. The maitre D had a smile on his face, so >did the others. Sally looked at them: "No way, man. Make me do the dishes, molest me, but not..." "Karaoke!" he said.

 Sally, Mimi, Sora and the 2 digimon HATED karaoke. And 100 bucks for >sushi? It almost looked like it was planned all along. But Sally had an idea.
She whispered it to the others. The girls giggled maliciously. "Ok, wise guy.
>We'll do it!" she said. They were taken out back behind the curtains. The show was scheduled in 5 minutes. They were behind curtains and next to a >karaoke machine. Sally exchanged the tapes in it and the curtain rised.
Before them was a big crowd awaiting karaoke. "Everybody is kung fu fighting!
>" they started singing. I gotta tell ya, every asian in that restaurant almost choked on their sushi. "Was as fast as lightning....!" they continued.
>Suddenly, chop sticks were zipping their way. Our heroines got out before they managed to catch them and face the "honorable punishment".
 Meanwhile still....
>Matt, Joe, TK and their digimon were cruisin' down california street looking for love. They were in a red sport's car. They had shades on, as well as >white suits. "Who's driving?" asked Joe from the back seat. "I don't know, but nothing wrong will happen if we don't find out." Said Matt. Gabumon was >steering while Gomamon was pressing the accelerator. Patamon was with TK in the back. Basically, the whole gang was kicking it California Style. They >parked their car ang got out. The city was huge and filled with active people . They saw a quaint cafe and decided to go in. Tk has never been to a cafe.
>This one was called "Abrakadabra cafe". They entered. They sat by a round table and a waiter came to them. "bring us some rapaccino late, extra sugar" >said Matt not even looking up, snapping his fingers. A minute later, his rapaccino was brought. Matt and the others were reading the paper. They tried >at all cost to be as cool as they can be. They drank the coffee and spat it out at the same time. "What the hell is this?" screamed Matt, making a scene.
>The waiter just said "kadabra!" "What do you mean you didn't have time to clean the cups and sugar spoons?" "Kadabra!" the brownish fox like crature >said, waving his spoon. "Kadabra? Kadabra??? I'll kadabra you you son of a bitch!" Matt jumped from his chair and punched kadabra to the floor. Joe >joined in and beat up another kadabra and TK just kicked a few of those homos with berrets, pink sweaters writing poetry on a computer. So it started: the >biggest fight ever to have broken out on California street. Everybody soon got in the act and it became a whole bar rumble. Gomamon, Patamon and Gabumon >just left and waited in the car. After some pink sweaters ripping and fur flying passed, Matt, TK, and Joe pinned down the 3 kadabras to the floor with >their spoons in their hands. At the very same time, thay shouted: "Right back up in your mother fuckin' ass!" The kadabra's eyes popped up and screamed.

>Police sirens emerged and our 3 heroes jumped in the car and drove off.
> Chapter 18: Good vs Evil
> The 3 gangs came back home at the same time. They decided not to tell their story to Tai, Izzy, Kari or Wreck. Anyways, they were glad to see Kari >well and were astounded by their story. Wreck's arm was in a cast. There was not much the gang could do for now, so Wreck decided everybody would have a >day off.
> The digidestined went on the beach and got themselves a tan. The digimon were swimming. Izzy also swam, letting down computer tapping for a >while. Tai was staring at Sora's body. she was in a bikini and kept her trademarked hat. She also wore sunglasses so she couldn't tell if Tai was >looking at her. She had matured a lot over the past years, if you know what I mean. Mimi was also looking pretty hot in here. Sally and Basher were with >them as well. Only Wreck and Minemon stayed back home. Suddenly, earth starte d shaking, and far away, something was emergeing from the water. "Is it? No, >it couldn't be! It is!" said Matt. "Machinedramon!" Izzy and the digimon ran back to shore. The object that apeared to be machindramon blasted his way at >high speed to them. The Mechanical creature made a diabolical laugh. "Hahaha hahahaha! Oh, but I AM Machinedramon! The new and improved from project X!
>Technodramon!" It looked like a giant mechanical dragon, much like the original Machinedramon except this one was of heavier metal, wings, bigger, >and weapons cocked from all over his body. "project X..." remembered Matt, Joe and Izzy... "I was resurrected by Team Rocket's technological Team... In >return, I must bring you to them" "Agumon, warp digivolve-ACK!" Agumon was constricted by Technodramon's giant claw filled hand."not this time, sucka!" >Tai bolted out of here, and luckilly, wasn't seen. The other digidestined were forced to surrender and were taken away to the sky by Technodramon.
>
 "WREEEEECK!" screamed Tai, running in the room. Wreck jumped up: "What >is it?" He asked. "huff * huff...Technodramon... took them away! All of them!
" Wreck was shocked. He never should have sent them unsupervised! "There is >not a momment to lose!" Wreck went down to the basement and grabbed guns, glocks and grenades. He took Minemon outside and made him digivolve. After >making him transform into the ship, he got in. He was about to start it, but Tai came out with ammo on his shoulder and a gun in his pocket and climbed >aboard. Wreck wasn't sure if it was a good idea to bring him along but he did anyway. They blasted off.
 They looked in the sky for 2 hours for the floating island, and finally >found it. They docked in, and sneaked around. Wreck saw a giant pyramid in the middle, and thought it was an ideal place for keeping the kids. Our 3 >heroes sneaked around buildings and reached the entrance. "Ok Tai. This is where stealth doesn't matter anymore. This will be a full frontal assault!"

>Tai nodded. Both took a sword and a rifle. X-boxmon switched on his big fuckin' claws and cocked a canon from his arm. They lashed out of their >hiding places and let out a war cry at guards of the entrance.

> "Hahahahaha! I finally got you little punks!" said Giovanni. He was in a room with the digidestined and their digimon tied to a wall. Technodramon was >next to them and observing a machine that seemed to emit a blue portal like a swirling pool through a hoolahoop. "You'll never get away with this!" said >Sora. "SILENCE!!!" He turned around and screamed. "Now... I'll show you my little invention." He walked to the machine and typed the names of our heroes >. And what they saw, made their blood run cold. Out of the portal came... them... exact copies, but with a greyer shade. Each one's respective twin >walked up to the ones on the wall and gave them the eye. "May I present to you... evil you! I have summoned them from the evil plane where all is >opposite! Oh, I almost forgot..." he typed in W-R-E-C-K H-A-V-O-C.... and out of the portal, came a white haired, white trenchcoated, black capped guy >with red eyes that looked just like Wreck! But just without his current handicap.
 Tai and Wreck blasted their way through the entrance. They started >shooting everything that moves and slashing anything in proximity. Wreck tried to cut a camera but his sword dropped:"Aaaaarrgghh!" He fell to the >ground on his knees grabbing his wound. "Wreck!" shouted Tai. "Don't worry!
I'm alright!" Wreck got back up and put his sword in his coat and continued >fighting with one arm available equipped with a gun. After shooting every single Rocket on ground zero, they moved up the stairs. "Alert! Alert! Code >blue! Base has been infiltrated!" said a computer voice across the building.
It didn't stop Wreck, Tai or X-Boxmon. Doors started to close electronically >so X-Boxmon just simply blasted them out of the way. Guards poured from every direction but our heroes shot them first every time.

 The evil twins slapped, streched, and basically played with the good >side's faces. They were taking advantage on them because they were tied.
Basher got really pissed and summoned all his strength to brake free. Evil >Basher didn't expect that and got a powerful blow to the face. With the evil one down, Basher started braking the others free, but got stomped by Techno >dramon. At that point, the door blasted. When the smoke cleared, 3 silhouetes could be seen. It was Tai, Wreck and X-Boxmon in their super hero pose! Boy, >were they glad to see him! "Game over, Giovanni!" said Wreck. "I think not!"
said Evil Wreck, aiming his gun at him. "What the... DUCK!" shouted Wreck.
>They avoided a devastating attack. Wreck cocked his gun and shot numerous rounds at Evil Wreck. "You missed" said the evil Wreck. "Did I?" The before >constricted heroes were free! They tapped the evil twins on the shoulder,and upon turning around, all they saw was a fist flying, 15 uppercuts! It was as >if it was a musical. They ran to Wreck's side. "What are these abominations?" asked Tai. "They came from the portal. Our opposites!" said Izzy. It was an >odd situation: the good with a broken arm, but with a black box Giovanni seemed to have left out, Versus the Evil with Giovanni as an extra and a big >fuckin' metallic dragon. The odds were against them. "We have a huge dis advantage here. You all know your evil sides, so be sure to expect dirty >fighting, and know how to counter it." said Wreck. "We must drive 'em back into the portal!" They charged, and so did the ennemy. Every digimon boosted >up by digivolving and entered battle. The battle was straightforward, but Giovanni and Technodramon were there to un even the odds. Wreck's arm was no >exception. Evil Wreck was stomping him to the ground, and going for his arm.

He had an idea! If only he could reach the controls... "X-Boxmon! Bike form!" >shouted Wreck. X-boxmon paused his fight with Technodramon and morphed into a bike. He sped to Wreck's side and picked him up. Wreck drove to the control >box and typed: G-I-O-V-A-N-I and T-E-C-H-N-O-D-R-A-M-O-N... Out of the portal came Giovanni dressed in green and black, and Technodramon in gold. Evil >Giovanni jumped on the Good one. (Good is evil, evil is good) and the 2 Technodramons clashed. The 2 reds weren't fighting. Because the original Red >is pure neutral, the other can't be neither good nor evil. Basher smacked the evil kids silly and the good ones took advantage of this to pick them up and >throw them back in the portal. With the evil gone, the evil digimon evolved back in their original rookie form. "Terra force!" shouted wargreymon. A >huge ball of energy blasted the evil digimon back in the portal. Evil Wreck also reached the controls and took Wreck off the bike and picked him up. He >took him to the portal. Both Reds moved in on him and original Red and a nearly dead Wreck versus Evil Wreck and still neutral Red. Evil Technodramon
>'s tail swung and accidentally knocked the 2 Evils in the portal. Himself was thrown in by Good Technodramon (evil). Evil Giovanni was also punched in.
>With every clone gone, Basher put his fists together and smashed the machine.
The portal warped and disapeared. The Good gang decided it was time to leave.
>The walls started shaking and electricity shot everywhere. The kids jumped on birdramon and flew out of the wall, followed by the Angemon carrying Red, >Angewoman carrying Sally, Megakabuterimon carrying Basher and X-boxmon, in his jet mode, carrying Wreck. Giovanni knew the place would blow, so he told >technodramon to take him, and he did so. Wreck was pretty beat up. He was still alive, but just barely. He and X-boxmon looked back. For a second, the >pyramid looked tranquil... and then it exploded its top off! Pieces flew past them. "Where to Wreck, home?" asked X-boxmon. Wreck didn't answer...

 Chapter 19: Desert Adventure
>
 They had gone home. Wreck was in bad shape from that fight with Evil >Wreck. Hospitals couldn't be trusted anymore so they just kept him in his room with full attention. He had lost a lot of blood, most of his bones were >broken and his arm was almost torn from its socket. Izzy's computer started beeping. He opened it and Gennai stood before him as a hologram. They told >him the entire story so far. He got a concerned look on his face. "I'm afraid your friend isn't going to make it unless... "Unless what?" asked everybody >at the same time. "...Unless you give him a life potion." "Life potion?" " yes. The essence of the life tree itself." "What are we waiting for? Let's >go for it!" Said Tai raising his fists. "Pssst!... We're waiting for Gennai to tell us where it is" whispered Sora. "It's in a desert, far away from here
>." The room was quiet for a second. "I wanna go! No, me!" everybody was insisting to go for it. "You can't all go, Wreck needs your attention and in >his state, it would be a perfect time for the enemy to strike" he said. He was right. They stood quiet, not knowing what to do now. Suddenly, Wreck's >arm rose, even though he was unconscious. He pointed at Mimi and Tai. "The hero has chosen" said Gennai.
 "It's actually quite fitting" said Agumon to Tai, who was packing his >back pack. "Because Palamon is a desert plant and I'm a lizard, we will be able to survive easilly". Tai had finished packing his bags. Meanwhile, >Mimi was packing her bags: "I wish this tree wasn't in the middle of the desert. I might get sunburns, and skin cancer, or..." "don't worry, Mimi!" >said Palamon. "You have good skin protection, besides, you might even get a tan". An hour later, after packing their back packs, they met up in front and >waved good bye to everyone. Red drove them to the edge of the desert in his car. "Thanks Red" said Mimi. "Don't mention it" he said. They turned around.
>"Hey wait" said Red. They turned around, wondering what he wanted. He fixed his shades and said "...you kids be careful". He drove off. Mimi and Tai were >quite flattered by Red's unexpected wish for well being. There was a place where they could rent camels, so they did.
>
 They had rode for the entire day until night came. They knew deserts >get very cold at night, because sand is a good heat conductor and cools off really fast at the absence of the sun. They had made one big tent and had to >sleep in it together. Tai noticed it didn't seem to bother Mimi. They soon scooted off in it and lay down. They talked for a while and Mimi fell asleep, >but not Tai. He just kept looking at Mimi. "She is so hot" he thought. A puff of smoke suddenly emerged and Eminem in a devil's suit appeared. "Come on >you really want to do her, right?" it said. "nobody's gonna know!". "You have a point there" said Tai. Another puff of smoke apeared and Dr Dre in an angel >suit apeared: "Don't do it, man. What about Sora?" "Forget Sora! You have a half naked bitch right next to ya, you ain't even gonna fuck that ho?" "Yo!

>This girl's only 12 years old!" "So am I" said Tai. "See? The doc's trying to mess your mind! The statistics are here: you get a good fuck, end of story."
>"but what if she don't like it, and tells it to Izzy? He's gonna beat the crap out of you" "Not if you kill the two, before they do something stupid" " >Most unlikely, but I wouldn't put money on it." They disapeared at the same time. Tai couldn't sleep, knowing how hot Mimi is and how much he loved Sora.
>Mimi turned around, eyes wide open. "Can't sleep?" asked Mimi. "Nope" "Why?""Because we're gonna have sex!" Tai started sobbing. "We don't have to have >sex, you know? We're in an adequate situation, but you love Sora and I love Izzy" said Mimi. She was right, Tai thought. He felt a lot better, knowing >Mimi could resist the temptation. They looked at each other, and kissed. "Oh my god, what have we done?" said Tai. "Uuhmm... NOTHING. Absolutely nothing" >replied Mimi. "Goodnite!" "goodnite!".
> Morning came and they both woke up. They packed their stuff back and climbed aboard their camels, with their respective digimon. "Hey Tai, what >happened last night?" asked Agumon. Tai quickly turned around and picked up Agumon by the shoulders: "WE DID NOT HAVE SEX!" He screamed with eyes wide >open. "What's with Tai all of a sudden?" asked Palmon. "he's...uh... feeling under the weather. Yeah, that's it" said Mimi nervously. "I have a feeling >you're not telling me something". Mimi just rode quietly.
> After an hour or so, the ground started shaking, and a giant worm-like creature emerged from the sand! "A sandmon!: This digimon lives deep in the >desert. It often strikes without warning. "Agumon and palmon digivolve to...
MetalGreymon! Lillymon!" The two digivolved digimon attacked sandmon.Lillymon
>'s canon and metalgreymon's missiles had little effect on the giant beast. It swung around and gulped the two camels. Tai and Mimi got off them just in >time. "Foul worm! I will bestoweth thee!" said Tai in olde english. He drew out Wreck's sword, while Mimi took out a wooden staff with a gem at the top.
>Metalgreymon digivolved into wargreymon and started beating on the worm with his bare claws. The worm's skin was of weird properties. It sucked it when >a sharp object aproached and blunt weapons simply bounced back. It spat a giant acid drop at wargreymon and it forced him to go back to koromon. Tai >lashed out at the giant beast and started cutting him across the belly. The worm tried to spit acid at Tai but he managed to avoid it. Lillymon tried >desperatly to shoot Wormon but got smited down. Mimi could see everybody was getting tired but she didn't know what to do. Then, she remembered this magic >trick. She closed her eyes, spoke a few words silently, then she opened them, raising her staff in the air. "Fireball!" she shouted. From her staff's gem >came a 6 feet in diameter fireball. It sped towards wormon and entered its mouth. The worm exploded and green slime splashed all over the place, messing >up Tai, koromon and the fallen lillymon, who digivolved back to palmon. Mimi stood quiet in her pose, with eyes wide open, as if she didn't know what >happened. Tai came running up to her asking: "What the fuck was that?" "I...

I have no idea where that came from. I found this stick along my way here and >... I don't know. I think it has magical propreties." Tai was willing to settle with this argument.
 Our heroes were now camelless and were forced to walk. They have >been walking a long time and they were so hot... Their water supply had been cut short and they had maybe a Litre left. "Oh my god! An oasis!" screamed >Tai, pointing at the horizon. "Tai, it's a mirage" said Mimi. "I know it looks tempting but..." Tai didn't listen. He just ran there with koromon and >splashed about. Mimi had a frustrated look on her face. "It's a mirage dammit !" Palmon saw the water too, and not considering Mimi's words, she jumped in >with the others. "Aw hell." said Mimi. She jumped in. "Shit! It IS water!" They refilled their cans and kept swimming until...

 Back at the base, Wreck was still in critical condition and wasn't >getting any better. Everybody was in his room except Kari. She was was fetching cold water but she saw somebody down the hall. She sneaked to the >figure. "YOU!" she shouted. She had recognized the face of the killer that was sent for her in the first place. He was tall, had one eye with the other >scarred, and dark hair. He was dressed in a gestapoRocket uniform and had >a shotgun out. He aimed the gun at her and fired. Kari ducked and the bullet flew atop of her head, cracking the wall behind. She ran as fast as she could >to Wreck's room. "ASSASSIN!" she yelled. Red got out with his gun cocked.
Basher was told to go behind. Red walked down the hall and heard the assassin >walk. "Don't come any closer!" Red yelled. The assassin stopped. They stood quietly for a while... long enough for Basher's move to go. He emerged from >the darkness and behind the assassin. He grabbed him with a bear hug and squeezed him tightly. "I got him!" Red and the others came in front. "What >shall we do with him?" asked Basher. "Burn him!" "Scald him!" "No, rape!" Everybody was talking at the same time. They heard a crack. The assassin fell >from Basher's grip, dead as the parents on The Party of Five. "I think I broke him" said Basher. "Oh Basher!" said Sally putting her hands on her >waist. She started laughing and everybody did so as well.Basher just shrugged and laughed along. "Dudes? A man just lost his life." sadi Joe. Everybody was >quiet. "SIKE! HAHAHAHAHAAA!" everybody started laughing again.

> "You arh tresspasseeng aun da Sooltan's oasees" said an arabic man with a fauchard. Others jumped out from the bushes and surrounded them. "Com >weet us, or DIE!" he said, pointing his sword right under Tai's neck.

> They were escorted to a cave near the oasis. They walked down a long pathway and downstairs. They passed through silk drapes and they saw a huge >room, paved with gold and red carpets and jewlery. Belly dancers were all over the place as well as guards similar to the ones that arrested our heroes >. In the middle of the back wall, sat a fat man in sultan tunics and covered with diamonds and jewlery. He had a black beard and a white poofy hat on his >head. "So, tis' you trespassing on my territory" he said in better english than his goons. "Please sir, we were only trying to find the life tree and >our water ran out and..." "What?" interrupted the Sultan. "That tree is mine as well!" He opened a curtain to reveal a big tree blooming with life. "Sir, >could you please let us have some of its essence?" asked Mimi. "I will... if you will be my bride." Mimi gasped. "Yo! This girl's only 12 years old! You >shouldn't take advantage of her, it's not fair!" said Tai. A guard bonked him on the head and he was out cold. "Mister sultan..." "Please, call me Larry" >"Ok...Lary, don't take me wrong, you're a nice guy and very rich, but I have a man back home. He's not rich nor tall, but I love him. I also have a >mortally wounded friend that needs the Life potion, or else he will die.
Please Larry..." Mimi covered her eyes and started crying. The Sultan, who >really wasn't a bad guy after all, threw Mimi the potion. "Go. Save your pal before it's too late" "Oh thank you! Thank you!" Mimi ran to Larry and kissed >his cheek. She ran off, dragging Tai by the shirt. "Wait!" said Larry. Mimi turned her head. He whispered something into a guard's ear and the guard >took Mimi to a secret passage. He took Tai off her hands and carried him on his shoulders. A little while later, they were in a room with several jeeps.
>"Take one" he said. Of course, Mimi took the pink one. She put Tai, palmon and koromon in it and the guard pressed a button. The jeep levitated to the >surface. Mimi waved goodbye to the guard and told him to say thank you to Larry for him. Mimi stepped on the accelerator and bolted back home.
 Chapter 20: The Crest
 Tai had awaken by the time they got to base. They ran as quickly as >they could inside, forgeting completely about koromon and palmon. They ran really quick and threw Basher the potion, who threw it at Joe, who threw it >at Sally, who gave it to Wreck. Nothing happened. "Wreck! We're too late!" said Sally as everybody came into the room. "BOO!" Shouted Wreck. Sally >jumped 3 feet into the air. "You jerk! You scared me half to death!" screamed Sally. Wreck was halfway up and laughing. His wounds were healing before his >eyes. After 5 seconds, he was up and running and feeling great! He personally thanked Mimi and Tai. "So? What are you waiting for? Go back to your posts >you crazy kids!" They were so glad he was better, they just saluted him and did as he said.

 Tai walked to Sora. "Sora, this trip has brought me closer to you than >you think. I love you Sora." Sora was so touched by his words, she declared he loves him to, and... you guessed it: they "did it" again. Same thing was >for Mimi and Izzy.
> Wreck was hard at work in his lab. Izzy, Tentomon and Minemon were his personal assistants. Wreck was trying to figure out how to make Minemon >evolve into ultimate. He tried concentrating, scaring himself, threatening, but to no avail. Izzy explained to him he needed a crest. "How can I find one >?" he asked. Izzy just shrugged. After hours of work, Wreck was left alone to work. He just kept thinking and thinking, until he fell asleep.
 He saw Gennai. "Am I dreaming?" asked Wreck. "Yes and no. It's happening >in your subconscious, but it's very real." said Gennai. "Will I find my crest here?" "...yes. But yours will be the hardest to earn." He floated away, and >Wreck followed. "These tests will decide what kind of crest you will receive" said Gennai. "Bring it on!". There was a flash and Wreck was in a bar fight >with several ugly looking muscle men. They attacked him, but Wreck jumped up and hung onto a chandelier. It broke and he fell on top of the ugly men.
>He jumped to his feet and broke a beer bottle and aimed it at anybody who got too close. "Yo Gen! What do I do now?"
.....next page!
>
-- Part 5
>
..... Wreck got teleported out in front of Gennai. "Good! You passed!" He >said. "Next test!" Gennai snapped his fingers. Wreck was in the dark. He couldn't see anything, but... he could hear sounds, like screaming, or some >kind of monster sounds. Wreck was afraid of the dark, and he had a feeling Gennai knew that. Wreck could also smell a reeking odor, as if something >had died. Wreck was trembling, but he still kept his cool. He could then feel things scurrying around his feet, and he could also feel something, or some >things watching him. At that point, he completely freaked. "GENNAAAAIII!!!" > He was transported back. Wreck was trembling. (Oooh! Maybe I shouldn' t have had Wreck take this test) "I'm afraid you failed to face your worst >fear Wreck. I don't blame you. Almost nobody can handle this." Wreck just put his head down. "Gimmee the last test" said Wreck. Gennai snapped his fingers >once again and Wreck was in a small town. It was pretty quaint. Trees, peeps, a bunch of kids fighting, squirrels, and... an all you can eat hot-dog >restaurant!. Wreck ran at high speed to the latter place, but on the way, saw the kids were actually beating one up. He checked the restaurant again >and saw it was closing in 15 seconds. Wreck didn't hesitate to help the kid that was getting beaten up. He stood in front of his assailants and gave them >"the look". They ran away. Now that the kid was safe, Wreck bolted to the restaurant. He saw a man with keys going for the door.

Wreck, refusing to >miss out on such an oportunity, crashed through the window. "GIMMEE ALL YOUR HOT-DOGS!" He said. He woke up.
 He seemed to have fallen asleep at his table. He felt something in his >hand. He opened it, and saw a pendant with a picture of a sword on it. Gennai
's voice rung in his head: "Due to your performance, which is quick thinking >in the first test, surviving your worst fear for at least a few seconds on the second,and standing up for the weak, as well as being fast and determined >on the third, you have been awarded the crest of Justice. Use it for good and take care." Gennai's voice died down. Wreck looked over at his crest. It >looks neat" he thought. He went to his room and fell asleep.
> Chapter 21: Wreck's Rage
> "Hey everybody! Lookee what I got!" said Wreck, entering the main room, where everybody was relaxing and not doing, even if they want to go to it. He >held a pendant with the crest of Justice before everybody's eyes. "Ha! I got m'self this crst here... the crestof JUSTICE" he said with an accent. The >gang leaned over and saw the small crest with the sword picture on it. Oddly enough, the sword looked almost exactly like Wreck's. "I'm going on an errant >ry with Minemon. My intentions are for him to digivolve into ultimate, and maybe, just maybe, into mega. Basher? Sally? Red? I'm encouraging you to find >your own digimon. Kids? I'm trusting you with the base. Come on, Minemon".
>more drugs, while Sally and Basher went off to find their destined digimon.
> Minemon, digivolved to... X-Boxmon and turned into his bike form. Wreck got in and sped off. On their way... "Hey Minemon, know any dangerous place?"
>"We could go to the Rocket airport." "Then off we go!" > They arrived at the gates of the landing area. As usual, there were two guards with rifles. "Stop your vehicle sir!" said one guard. Wreck didn't >stop. "SIR! STOP YOUR..." Wreck took out a shotgun and opened the locked gate by firing at its lock. He sped right by the guards, making them spin. He >rode to the middle of the landing area and got off. He took out a bazooka and fired at planes, who exploded at contact. Rockets came out with rifles and >surrounded Wreck. "Surrender, or die!" said one in a German accent. "X-boxmon ! It's your time!" whispered Wreck. "I can't! You're being too confident!"
>he replied. "Oh shit!" "There we go! X-Boxmon digivolve to... Goalmon!" Goalmon looked like a robot. It was 7 feet tall, had big metal feet, you know >, the traditional Macross or Mech or Suit or whatever (let it be Mobile Suit) but was black and white with green eyes. Shots started fireing at Wreck, but >Goalmon made a laser shield appear which protected Wreck from the lethal bullets. Goalmon then turned into a jet, much bigger than the one of his pre >form. Wreck climbed in, almost getting shot. "Let's see what we got here.
Oooh! A missle!" he said. "Watch out Wreck, I only got one of these per >digivolution." said Goalmon.

> Wreck saw the control tower of the airport. "FIRE" a giant missle came out from under Goalmon's body and it blew the damn thing up. "Man, you are >the coolest digimon ever!" said Wreck. Goalmon kept getting fired at by the Rockets and told Wreck he can't take much more. Wreck pressed a button and >they flew off at high speed.
> On their way again, Wreck checked out the onboard computer. Seems Goalmon has the same forms as X-Boxmon. They landed at their base and Goalmon >digivolved back to Minemon. Wreck was in a great mood and entered confidently inside the base. His mood changed instantly at the sight: EVERYBODY was in >his underwear, Izzy was downloading porno, Tai was having fun stuffing cucumbers in the mixer, TK and Kari were doing it on the floor in the main >room, Sora and Mimi were fooling around without Izzy or Tai noticing, Matt was on the sofa drinking beer and Joe was smoking cigars while dealing cards >across the table where the digimon were betting their digidestined's stuff.
The place was a huge mess!Beer cans, cigar butts and underwear were scattered >all over the place. Wreck's face got red. He felt his blood boil at 100 C.
"YOU LITTLE SHITS!" Screamed Wreck. He pulled out two guns and pointed them >straight forward. The gang was shocked! They had never seen Wreck, or anybody for that matter that pissed. "TAI! YOU'RE GONNA DRINK EVERY SINGLE >CUCUMBER YOU STUFFED IN THERE! IZZY, I'M GONNA STUFF ALL THAT PORNO IN A CD AND SHOVE IT UP YOUR ASS! MIMI AND SORA, COPY THE BIBLE ON PAPER! MATT, I'M >SENDING YOU TO REHAB! TK AND KARI, YOU'RE GOING TO CLEAN UP THE MESS YOU MADE ON THE RUG...WITH YOUR TONGUES! DIGIMON, CLEAN UP THE REST!" He yelled.
> "You can't be ser..." they said, but were interrupted by gunfire. "NOW YOU SON'S OF BITCHES!" They did as he said, fearing the worst if they wouldn't.
>"What about me?" asked Joe. Wreck sat down in front of him. "Hit me" he said.
> After a few hours, Basher, Red and Sally came back. They were a bit disturbed seeing what Wreck made everybody do. "So?" asked Wreck. "I didn't >feel like finding one" said Red. "I found a Mew" said Sally. "That ain't no digimon. That's a pokemon" said Wreck. "Damn." she took the pokeball and >threw it out the window as if it was nothing. "What about you, Basher?" "I found this here Rockmon!" Basher held Rockmon in the palm of his hands. "Dude >... that's a rock." Basher mad a sad face, but put Rockmon in his pocket just in case. "I've never seen this place so clean!" said Sally, sitting next to >Wreck. "Guys? Stop what you're doing and come here" said Wreck. The digi destined stepped up to him. Wreck got up and took off his cap. "I wanted to >apologize for losing my temper back then. I just wanted to scare you into never doing what you did" "S'allright... no problem... no harm done" said >everybody at the same time. "And god damn, it worked. We're sorry too" said Izzy, representing the gang. "Group hug!" They hugged each other, but got a >bit crushed by Basher's strength. Red stood there with the same frown as always.

>
 Chapter 22: Wreck Vs. Mewtwo
>
 "ALERT! CODE BLUE! CODE BLUE!" screamed Tai, who was entering the room >flailing his arms about. "What is it?" asked Wreck, shaking him. "A huge... army! Team Rocket Army! Thousands upon thousands of pokemon surrounding base!
>" he said. Wreck feared this day. The day where Team Rocket would come to him . "Everybody at their posts! Grab yourselves some rifles and AP-69.5 bullets!
>" ordered Wreck. They quickly ran outside on top of their stronghold and saw the hugest batallion they had ever seen. About a million pokemon, of all kind >had surrounded Infinity mountai and were about to climb to the top. With little hesitation, they started firing at long range and the digimon digi >volved into their mega forms. Minemon was at Wreck's side and was fireing long range shots like the others. "THERE ARE TOO MANY!" Screamed Matt. The >digimon were blasting pokemon below, but they still kept on coming. Wreck saw a floating pokemon in the horizon... "Mewtwo..." He had an idea. He quickly >went down to the lab and on top of the giant canister of AP-69.5. He was about to pull the lever, which would pour down the mountain, but was taken >off guard by Mewtwo, who crashed through the wall.
> Hyper beams and fires and sands were coming from everyware and scalding our brave soldiers. Still, they kept on fighting, ignoring the pain. Basher >was grenade launching, Red was Missle launching, while the rest was just machine gun shooting.
>
 Mewtwo landed on the bridge that was right on top of the open canister >of the acid solution. "You must be Wreck" came a voice in Wreck's mind. It was communicating telepathically. Wreck pulled out his sword, but, his sword >was jigglying uncontrolably and it's tip was heading for Wreck's neck. He heard a diabolical laughter in his mind. Mewtwo was moving the sword. Wreck >was just one inch from his neck when he threw a dagger into one of its eyes.
The psychic link broke. Wreck decided it wouldn't be wise to fight with a >weapon anymore so he tossed his into the ceiling, where it stuck. Mewtwo was bleeding from his left eye and he looked extemely pissed off. He started >concentrating and his psychic force made him pump up into a mean fighting machine. Wreck got a concerned look on his face. Wreck lashed out and tried >to land a few punches, but was unsuccesful. Mewtwo punched him in the stomach and slammed his head with his knee. (Of course! He can read my mind! He can >predict every move I'm going to make... how can I fight him?) Mewtwo made another laugh and put his hand up. Wreck started floating over the pool.
>Mewtwo opened his hand and Wreck dropped. The fall wasn't that quick so Wreck had just enough time to take out his ninja rope. He shot it right under the >bridge and swung around, making a drop kick at Mewtwo.Mewtwo couldn't predict it because it was an instinctive move. He lost hs ballance and fell. He was >maybe a meter away from the pool, but started to fly up. "You mother fucking cheater!" Screamed Wreck. He jumped down on Mewtwo's stomach and the latter >one fell in completely. Wreck bounced off back to the bridge and saw Mewtwo decomposing, screaming and trying to float. He disapeared, half melted in the >solution. Wreck released the valve and the solution poured out in every direction of the strong hold.

>
 The pokemon down there started making horrible sounds and were melting.
>"There's still too many!" shouted Tai. "Wait... what's that?" "The Sultan's army!" shouted Mimi, extatic. He came to lend a hand and started massacring >every pokemon in his path with his fauchard and on his horse. "That won't be enough" cried Sally. Mimi started remembering another trick from out of >nowher. She dropped her rifle and took out her staff. "Mimi? What are you doing?" asked Joe. Wind and light started to appear around Mimi, Her eyes >were closed and she was reciting a strange language. "EARTH'S HELL MOUTH!" she screamed. Her gem glowed and in a 60 degree radius and in 5 miles of >range, was a huge crack in the earth which gulped down everything there. It closed back. "Alright Mimi! Now we will win for sure!" shouted Sora. "Mimi?" >Mimi was face down on the floor. The casting might have been too much for her
 They wiped out 90% of every pokemon that was out there. The rest just >fled. Everybody made war cries and cheered, picking Mimi up, who was awake, but very tired now. They came down the lab to check up on Wreck. He was >cheering as well. They slapped each other's hands and were about to leave, but they heard loud groaning from the empty canister. They turned around, and >an ugly, deformed and twisted Mewtwo came out. "Now, I will destroy you all at once!" he said out loud. He started forming a glowing ball in his hands.
>Wreck, who had forgotten his sword, took the all American flag with its pole he had around to decorate the lab and pulled it back like a javellin. "From >hell's heart I stab at thee!" he yelled. He threw the pole and it his Mewtwo
's energy ball and it pierced right to his heart. He was propelled to the >wall and crashed. The pole pierced him completely and he was stuck there. The energy from the ball dispersed onto him and he slowly but surely, turned to >stone. The flag was hanging from his heart as if to represent America itself.
Everybody saluted it and went back up in the living room.
 Chapter 23: Heat Before the Battle
>
 "We have finally beaten the pokemon part of Team Rocket" said Wreck, as >he was getting bandaged over the head by Sora. Everybody made a small cheer, small because they were exhausted. "But by now, all we saw in total was >merely a quarter of what we're up against. Everybody gasped. "Don't worry, y' all! We can kill 'em! It's a good thing Mimi knows magic." "Actually" said >Tai "she began using it when she found this staff in the desert." Wreck scratched his goatee. "This will recquire closer inspection".

 Mimi had just awaken. She was a bit scratched and bruised from the >battle, but she was in better condition than anyone. "Mimi!" said Wreck, getting off his armchair. He took her hand and guided her to another armchair >. Wreck sat down next to her. "Tell us... since when are you magically apt?" asked Wreck. Mimi shrugged. "All I know is that I remember at occasions a >few random spells when the time is right. I don't even know where they come from!" she said. "I read about this" said Sally. "You were probably a mage >in a previous life." Mimi thought for a while. "Now that you mention it...
I do remember my dad telling me stories about an ancestor of mine. He said >she was a wizard. I never really believed it..." said Mimi. "So now, your ancestor's DNA finally kicked in. Few people have magical aptness. This >talent is a precious gift Mimi... use it well." said Sally. "... but...but why did it happen when I found this staff?" said Mimi, holding it up for >everyone to see. "Wizards used to have staffs too. They were usually used to help them remember their spells or to transfer them form will power into the >material form." explained Sally. "How do you know all this?" asked Joe. "Let' s just say I read lots of that shit..." She handed Mimi a spell book. Mimi >looked at it. It was of first class material. Leather cover, with a little insigna on it. The pages were also placed in good order. There were 3 or 4 >spells in it, but the rest of the pages were blank. "These are the spells I noted. I never could cast them. The blank spaces are for you to note down >spells you might learn." "Thank you Sally" said Mimi, looking at her with kind eyes and with the book to her chest. "thank you..." she repeated.
>
 The party would rest until their wounds would heal up. Red could heal >much faster thanks to his unusual anatomy. Mimi was always busy studying her spells. another thing about magic that Sally left out was that the person >had to be smart. We all know Mimi isn't a brainiac, in fact, she isn't that smart at all. But Izzy had probably some kind of major influence on her.
>She might seem like a froo froo millionaire bi... uh, girl, but she prooved that wrong when she fell in love with soemone for his personality. Tai and >Sora's relationship wasn't going so well. "Sora, until this war is over, I'm afraid we'll have to be seperated." said Tai. Sora turned her head the other >way, struggling not to cry. "But... I still love you. You are my reason to live... my soul mate... but our relation can't get in the way of our survival >" finished Tai. "I... I understand." said Sora. They kissed one last time.
("nobody says it... like Hallmark. I can't believe they had something for an >occasion like this one!) thought Tai.

> "The time has come..." said Wreck. "Time in which we must face the enemy face to face." Everybody was astounded at Wreck's anouncment. "Wreck, >shouldn't we prepare or something?" asked Sora. "We don't have anymore time to prepare. The time is now or never. Everybody equip themselves with top >quality items! Up your arsenals, on the double!" "YES SIR!" everybody said.

They ran to the armory and picked ther weapons and armor. Everybody had some >kind of protection vests and rifles. Mimi had only her staff and her spell
book containing 24 spells now. "To the floating island!"

Thinking time!:
>Sora: I'm glad Team Rocket is finally going to be disposed of...
Tai: When this battle's over, I'm celebrating.
>Joe: This is it. If I lose here, it's game over.
TK: ...blood...

>Kari: I hope we survive this...
Matt: I can take Team Rocket on... I hope...
>Mimi: With this "barrier" spell I got, this is going to be a snap.
Izzy: With this here flame thrower, I'll torch these bastards to smitherines.
>Red: This will be the most action packed sequence in my life!
Yes!
Sally: I can't take much more of that shit. Live or die, I'll win anyway.
>Basher: Hahaha! So many bones to crush...
Wreck: I'm going to get you this time, Giovanni.
>
 Chapter 24: Final Showdown
 The gang quickly climbed upon their Digimon's back. Sally, Basher and >Red flew on Goalmon. "I hope you reach mega level in this fight." said Wreck.
"Let's just cross our fingers and hope for the best".
They found the floating >island and moved in. Rockets saw them flying so they aimed their weapons at them. Mimi kicked in: "Heraldi as vandalar!" she spoke.
"BLOW BARREL!" the >barrels of their rifles exploded. The gang jumped down and took out short ranged weapons of all kinds. The ground was practically infested with Rockets >and their pokemon! They moved in and hacked and slashed lots of shit. They were lawnmowers with ultra sharp blades cutting down Rockets as if they were >grass. Wreck had trained them well. But unfortunately, the Rockets were closing little by little on them. Mimi casted again:" Lestrashab unh hlat...
>SHOCK WAVE!". Mimi raised her staff and pounded it to the ground.
Around her came a wave which knocked out rockets in a 15 foot radius. The rest of the >gang took the oportunity to unleash their more lethal weapons. Soon enough, missiles were exploding at Rockets and more were set fire by Izzy's flame >thrower. They split up in groups of 4. Joe, Mimi, Basher + Sally, Sora, Tai + Red, TK, Matt and finally, Wreck, Kari and Izzy. They were all heading for >the central pyramid. Buldings blew up, blood was flying all over the place... it was a true war zone, and to think it's done by only 8 kids... and 4 ultra >special assassins... and 9 giant beasts of destruction...

> All teams had finished destroying everything but the pyramid. They all went the same path and walked to it, weapons undrawn, with the bright blue >sky behind them. Suddenly, the pyramid crashed and out came Technodramon with Giovanni on his back. It landed and Giovanni got off. "So, my dear Wreck. You >have finally come..." said Giovanni. "In the name of all the men you killed, so as the ones your father did, in the name of all that lives, and finally, >in the name of all that is sacred, I will vanquish you!" yelled Wreck. "Tsk tsk" said Giovanni, shaking his head. "you sound so confident, yet, you still >can't defeat Technodramon." "Oh yeah?" "I'll prove it. Go, technodramon!" TechnoDramon jumped up and swooped down at Wreck. His Digivice started >glowing... Goalmon, digivolve to... Shadowmon! Shadowmon looked like that mechanical suit, but this time, he looked much bigger and cooler. It seemed >he had an all-black cables insides, while there were black armor pieces all over his body. His face was a black mask with golden eyes. The robot stood >at around 15 feet tall. He also had a jet and metal wings on his back. He boosted himself up and stopped Technodramon from his attack. Soon, the two >were wrestling and beating the living crap out of eachother.
> While Wreck was watching, Giovanni pulled out a gun... the same one he shot Kari with. "Wreck! Watch out!" shouted Kari. Wreck turned his head and >saw the gun. He saw a few flashes and heard loud noises. He moved his head and the bullets flew past him. "You and me now, Giovanni..." said Wreck, >throwing his coat and cap away. They rushed to each other and started kicking and punching at an ultra high speed, as if it was Dragon Ball Z or something.
>They pulled back and started concentrating their energy. Giovanni spat fire, but Wreck rolled and made a huge white beam of light from his hands. It got >Giovanni right to the stomach. They jumped at each other again and made several combos until Wreck had a heavy kick in the guts. He backed up for a >while, and jumped back. The fight between Technodramon and Shadowmon was pretty shaky. Two giant masses colliding and all that. shadowmon had few >chances against Technodramon. That guy was at least 3 times stronger than Piedmon ever was. The other digimon knew that, so they jumped in to help.
>They finally kicked its ass and threw his unconscious body down to the ground below. Returning to he main fight, Wreck had hit Giovanni enough times to >drive him to the ground. He has been defeated. "Give up, Giovanni." said Wreck. Giovanni made a sinister yet silent laugh. "You have maybe defeated me >, but..." he stood up and started floating. "...can you defeat every pokemon you have killed in one?" he made a diabolical laugh. Wreck didn't know what >he was talking about until...
> Souls from out of nowhere came pouring into Giovanni's body, which made him bigger and uglier after each entrance. After maybe 1000 entries, Giovanni >looked like some kind of mutant greymon-like animal with several arms and eyes, strange textures, and every part had an element to it. "I am...

>Giovanni X. Prepare to die!" it said, in a different voice... Wreck decided not to take any stupid chances and took out his sword. He jumped up, but the >strange creature proved to have excessive speed and grabbed him. Wreck saw his jaw. It was drooling with green slime and had thousands of sharp teeth >decorating it. G2 held him with both clawed hands and started squeezing him.
"So what now, pokemon slayer?" he said, squeezing Wreck like a squeeky toy.
>Wreck screamed as it was crushing his insides. "Sora! Tai! TK! Matt! Joe!
Izzy! Mimi! Kari! Red! Basher! Sally!" screamed Wreck. "...help.." G2 crushed >him once more and his head dropped down."WRECK!" shouted everybody. suddenly, their digivices started glowing. They checked it, but were burned by the >intense heat they were making. the digimon morphed into white balls of electric energy and flew to Wreck. "Digimon! Max digivolve to..." said every >digimon's voice from within Wreck. Wreck awoke again, but this time, he let out a war cry. His eyes started glowing yellow and he also was getting bigger >. Giovanni 2 was so surprised, he dropped him. Wreck, who was now on the ground, kept yelling. His muscles were getting pumped up, and he sprouted >wings on his back. He was now glowing multicolors.The colors stopped spinning and there stood a humanoid shaped creature. It had long, black hair, Wreck's >cap (backwards) , big feet with semi spherical iron boots, baggy blue pants with a belt. The belt was tied together with a digivice for a belt buckle.
>The body was flesh, off-orange color with every crest sign tattoed across the chest. The flesh went to the elbows, and was followed with huge metal >forearms. It also had a sword tied to his back and its face was covered by a white mask with tubes sticking out, going to the back. The eye holes had >Wreck's eues in them. The team could recognize them anyware. The body was quite pumped up, not quite as proportional to Basher's body. " Fragamon!" it >said with Wreck's voice, but slightly altered by its size. Fragamon jumped at giovanni 2 and kicked him in the face. He fell with a loud thud. He got >back up and breathed fire at him. Fragamon barely evaded. He grasped his hands with his and both were palying "mercy". But G2 punched him using some >of his free hands and Fragamon backed up. G2 grabbed him and rubbed him face first to the ground. Fragamon got out and flew high above. He took out his >sword and glided down at full speed. G2 breathed fireball after fireball at hime, but it didn't stop him. He got close and sliced off one of his arms.
>"3 more to go" he said. He dropped down behind G2. His wings sunk in his body and cut off G2's tail, who had a flame at it's end. G2 turned around, but >Fragamon backflipped over him and cut off another arm. G2 was now down with 2 arms, 2 legs and 1 head. Fragamon undrew his sword and started jabing G2's >face. Teeth and blood came to the ground. G2 then grabbed Fragamon and was bear hugging him. "Not this again. Take that!"...

-- Part 6 (finally!)
>
... remembering how Tai and Matt fought, remembering how he told them this >was war, remembering how he had fought unfairly, striking in the back, Fragamon kicked Giovanni 2 in the testicles with his big metal foot. All of >G2's red eyes widened and he fell to the ground. So pissed off, G2 lashed out and bit Fragamon in the arm. Fragamon screamed and tried to pry loose. G2 >lost grip so he kicked and punched Fragamon continuously.
> At the side, everybody was cheering Wreck's new form. Gennai was there too, in spirit (literally). "I'm afraid this will be Wreck's last battle."he >said. Everybody's head turned to his holo. "From ashes of hatred will spring forth a protector with his 3. He shall defend the 8 destined and their >protectors as well. In the ultimate battle of Good versus Evil, he, with the help of the 8 protectors, will make the ultimate sacrifice, to rise again >when he shall be needed to fight once more. Tis' the new Digiworld prophecy." he said. "Wreck is going to die?" asked Sora. "No!" shouted Tai. Izzy thought >for a bit. "to rise again... what does that mean?" he asked. Gennai just shrugged.
 G2 was pounding Fragamon to the ground. Fragamon looked pretty beat up >and G2 looked like he would win. fragamon drew his sword again but it was punched out of his hand, followed by a claw to the face. With him down, G2 >took the oportunity to regenerate himself using more pokemon souls. "I'll never defeat him that way. I have to..." he thought. Fragamon got up and bear >hugged G2. "SELF DESTRUCT!" he screamed. G2 struggled with all his might to break free, but Wreck's determination was too hard for him. "Wreck! Noooo!" >screamed everybody. Fragamon's eyes glowed and he started glowing red. Steam poured out of his orrifices and he flashed.
 The island blew up...
>
 It was now in pieces and falling to the ground. Original digimon flew out >and grabbed the digidestined and the rest. Shadowmon couln't find Wreck anyware. Everything fell down right next to the base. When everybody was >aware of their situation, the looked for Wreck. After searching through scrap and twisted metal, they found him. He was lying on the ground, almost dead.
>"WRECK!" shouted Sally, falling on her knees beside him. Everybody looked up and ran to his side. He was covered with blood, and his bones were broken.
>"...I-i... I'm n-n-n ot going to cough make it" he said. "Don't leave us, Wreck! We need you!" said Sora. "You're the one who saved us numerous times!"
>said Tai. "You taught us how to fight!" said Joe. "you taught us so much..." said Matt. "Think of something nice!" said TK. Wreck was silent for a few >seconds. "I hope you live long and happy lives. Don't be too sad... I'll be in heaven and stuff. Minemon? Find your place in this crazy world. But now... >goodbye..." he said. "Wreck?" said Basher. Wreck said nothing. "WREEECCKK!!" he screamed. Sally lay him on the ground again and stood up. She saw Giovanni >crawling to a plane that survived the crash. Red, in mad fury, ran to him and put him in the plane. He took his head and slammed it to the steering wheel.

>He then broke his arms, and filled the cockpit with dynamite. He set the plane on auto and jumped off. The plane started moving. Giovanni's head was >on the winshield, screaming. The plane flew for 30 seconds, and blew up.
> Wreck was put underground at the edge of infinity mountain. A wooden cross stood there as his grave. "Goodbye Wreck. We'll miss you" said Sora.
>They walked away, knowing Wreck didn't want them to cry. The threat has been eliminated in the digital world. The digidestined were free to go home. A >door stood there, waiting to be opened. The digidestined waved goodbye to the digiworld and entered, followed by Basher, Red and Sally.
